Department Finds Prices Have Eaten Up Wage Increases.

MANY STAPLES DOUBLED

Some Vegetables, Notably Beans, Have Had an Even Greater Advance.

Special Despatch to Tax Sex.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Higher costs of food to the consumer during the war period from November, 1914, to May, 1918, approximating about 40 per cent. on 249 staple articles are disclosed in res prepared by the Department of Labor in connection with the survey into the cost of living. The largest of the increases relate to flour bacon, ses and lard. Almost without exeption the food products mentioned are reduced within the country.

In making the figures public it is ointed out that expenditures for food to equal to almost all other living exs of workmen and that practically if the average increase in wages during the war period has been utilized in meeting the higher cost of living. Based on prices paid to the producer by the wholesaler it is shown that flour the barrel has advanced in three and half years from $5.88 to $9.78, bacon 20.63 to 38.21 cents a pound and ses from 79 cents to $1.45 a bushel. ard has increased from $11.18 a hunpounds to $23.25, butter from 84 to hts a pound and cheese from 15 to and heaf has advanced from $ to

.55 cents and pound, hams from 16 % 20 cents and pork from 15 to 26 cents. Oatmeal has advanced in price from a hundred pounds to $5.51 and my from $1.78 a hundred pounds to

In the list of canned goods the largest erease is shown in the price of canned matoes, from 65 cents a dozen cans to 2.02. Canned peas rose from 80 cents at $6.08 a hundred sounds in 1914, and has advanced to $7.85, corn syrup from $2.34 to $4.16 and molasses from 45 to 69 cents a In the list of vegetables onlone selling at $1 a hundred pounds have advanced 23 cents and beans from $3.86 a hundred increases are shown in the prices stated for salmon, rice, mutton, coding and commeal. The figures are gathered from all seqtions and represent the average advance throughout the country for the war period. The Food Administration has refrained from fixing prices on essential ned from fixing prices on essential products and commodities during the war period and the prices which are reported by the Labor Department indithe trend of costs during the three and a half years.

NEW BOARD TO SIT ON WAR CONTRACTS

Will Make Adjustment With Firms Whose Orders Are Cancelled by Peace.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 .- Claims of contractors who have been supplying the Government and concerning which differences may arise with contracting officers of the various supply bureaus are to be presented before a board of con-tract adjustment which has been created by the Secretary of War. The board will be empowered to make adjustments with contractors who have been engaged on war work, and whose goods will not be needed by the Government with the coming of peace.

Findings of the board will be conclusive accept that appeals may be taken sive except that appeals may be taken to the Secretary of War. Contractors will not require lawyers to represent them at the hearings, but may appear themselves or have representatives make their claims. All cases will be heard as promptly as possible.

The personnel of the board is as follows: Lieut.-Col. Christopher B. Gar-nett, chairman: Lieut.-Col. H. H. Leh-man and Lieut.-Col. Edward F. Malone. Lieut.-Col. Garnett was formerly chair-man of the Corporation Commission of Virginia: Lieut.-Col. Lehman is chief of the Methods Section, Purchase Branch Purchase, Storage and Traffic Division and Lieut.-Col. Malone was Assistan Corporation Counsel of New York city for the Borough of Queens. The legal adviser of the board will be a judge ad-vocate appointed by the Judge Advocate Hearings of the board will be held in sections as may be necessary for the dis-charge of its duties. Its offices will be in Washington.

bee Benefits in Advertising. Realizing the benefits to be derived from advertising, local shoe merchants are making ready for their Christmas displays earlier than usual, according to the weekly report of conditions in the trade by Ben Jacobson, manager of Me-Elwain, Morse & Hogers. Each mer-chant contributed last year certain amounts toward advertising the streets in which their businesses were located. As a means to this end space was bought in the newspapers, and the streets were decorated with flags.
